

Monday Morning Practice Pearls #6

How can I stay current with regulations, guidances, and other news from OHRP and the FDA?

Both OHRP and the FDA have developed electronic mailing lists that will bring you real-time updates of federal regulations, guidelines, and other news.

Organization	Description	Link
Office for Human Research Protections (OHRP)	Free email alert system. Join by sending an email to LISTSERV@LIST.NIH.GOV , with the following text message body: SUBSCRIBE OHRP-L insert your First name insert your Last name . Email address will be automatically captured using the "From" address.	https://www.hhs.gov/ohrp/news/sign-up-for-announcements/index.html
U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA)	Free e-mail alert service to receive important FDA news and information as they become available. When signing up, you will be asked to select broad topics of interest and then select from within those topics all or some of the offerings. Some of the broad topics of interest include, but are not limited to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Biologics• Drugs• Medical Devices• Regulations, Laws and Standards• Research	https://www.fda.gov/about-fda/contact-fda/get-email-updates