*Facilitated by: Tracy Kirby, MSN, RN, OCN®
Nurse Educator, Office of Education and Compliance, CCR, NCI*

Discussion Questions:

1. Why are younger, female patients with cancer at higher risk for financial toxicity?
2. How is financial toxicity associated with adherence to treatment and burden of symptoms for oncology patients?
3. What are some ways healthcare teams can engage patients in the discussion of cost?
4. What desirable outcomes can acting on results of early financial assessment lead to?
5. What resources are available to NCI patients on research protocols to decrease potential financial toxicity?
